

India is a land of festivals and celebrations.

If there is one festival that truly and totally catches the essence of India, it is Holi Festival. Holi is the festival of colours that marks the triumph of good over evil, welcomes spring, the season of new life and celebrates love.

Every festival has its own dedicated food and drinks as a part of its celebration.

Bhang is the one for Holi. Bhang (derived from the leaves and buds of the Marijuana plant) is probably the oldest intoxicant still in use. Legend has it that Lord Shiva brought bhang from the Himalayas for the pleasure of mankind. According to another legend, bhang was discovered when gods and demons churned the oceans with the mighty Mount Meru to produce the nectar of life.

Whatever you believe, one thing is sure, it is a tasty and divine pleasure.

At Holi and Bhang, although we cannot serve you the authentic bhang (not without getting into trouble with the law) we promise to take you on a colourful and intoxicating journey of tantalising flavours and aromas through our carefully designed menu of authentic and exotic dishes from across India to be enjoyed with a selection of classical and innovative cocktails.

Come join us to celebrate life and its festivities with your loved ones.
